

RELIGIOUS FREEDOM WEEK

Commemorating Jefferson's Statute of Virginia for Religious Freedom

Jan. 11 1 p.m. – Parade, Knights of Columbus Rappahannock
Assembly No. 1613
From Fredericksburg Train Station to Washington Avenue

2 p.m. – Ceremony
Speaker: U.S. Congressman Rob Wittman
Religious Freedom Monument, Washington Avenue

Jan. 17 1:30 p.m. – Dine with Thomas Jefferson

Interpreter Steven Edenbo will portray Jefferson at the Washington Area Secular Humanist Banquet to celebrate the anniversary of the signing of the Statute of Virginia for Religious Freedom. The Rappahannock Colonial Heritage Society dancers, in costumes of Jefferson's period, will entertain.

$40, public welcome.

Seacobeck Hall, University of Mary Washington
Reservations and information at www.wash.org, click "Winter Banquet."

Jan. 21 7:30 p.m. – Who's Afraid of American Religion?

A lecture by Alan Wolfe, director of the Boisi Center for Religion and American Public Life at Boston College and professor of political science.

Free.

Dodd Auditorium, George Washington Hall, UMW

Sponsored by the Fredericksburg Council on the Statute of Virginia and the University of Mary Washington.