

Geography Major
revised Fall 2022

Core requirements (11 credits)

- GEOG 102: Intro to Human Geography (3)
- GEOG 111: Landform Processes w/lab (4)
- GEOG 250 or GISC 200: Intro to GIS (4)

Method requirement (3-4 credits) choose one:

- GEOG 352: Quantitative Methods (3)
- GEOG 363: Qualitative Methods (3)
- GEOG 365: Field Methods (4)
- GISC 340: Remote Sensing (4)
- GISC 351: Spatial Analysis (4)
- GISC 355: Mobile Geographic Information Systems and Global Positioning Systems (4)

Breadth Requirement (9-10 credits): Take one course from each of the 3 areas of specialization, at least one being at 300-level. Courses with asterisks count in two areas but can be used in only one.

Society & Politics	Culture	Environment
GEOG 231: Introduction to Planning	GEOG 101: World Regional Geography	GEOG 110: Weather & Climate w/lab
GEOG 236: Globalization & Local Development	GEOG 221A: Geography of Eastern North America	GEOG 240: Hazards & Resilience
GEOG 237: Cities	GEOG 222A: Geography of Western North America	GEOG 241: Biogeography
GEOG 331: Race & Place in America	GEOG 301A: Geography of Latin America & Caribbean	GEOG 245: Environment & Society
GEOG 332: Migration Politics	GEOG 304A: Geography of Middle East	GEOG 325: Dynamic Climatology
GEOG 333: Planning Seminar	GEOG 335: Sacred Spaces	GEOG 326: Glacial Geomorphology
GEOG 337: Nature of Cities	GEOG 339B: Development Studies	GEOG 327: Climate Change
GEOG 338: Geopolitics	GEOG 361: Grassroots Development in Guatemala	GEOG 337: Nature of Cities

Specialization Requirement (9 credits): Take 3 additional courses from one of the areas of specialization, two of which are at 300- or 400-level. For each area, these may include 3 credits in any of: GEOG 200 Topics in Geography; 360 Study Abroad; 410 Advanced Topics in Geography; 485 Readings in Geography; 491 Individual Study in Geography; 494 Community Engaged Study in Geography; and up to one approved related field course.

Capstone (3 credits): GEOG 490 Senior Seminar in Geography