Equipping Educators to Teach Religious Literacy

Lessons from a Teacher Education Program in the American South

Emile Lester, University of Mary Washington, USA and
W. Y. Alice Chan, Centre for Civic Religious Literacy (CCRL)

Series: Routledge Research in Religion and Education

This volume provides a detailed evaluation of a unique education program implemented in secondary schools in Georgia to enhance teachers' religious literacy and their ability to promote this in schools and classrooms. The text demonstrates that religious literacy can be proactively taught, whilst also highlighting key considerations and tensions around religious liberty in the American South. This text will benefit researchers, academics, and educators with an interest in religious education, teacher education, and religious literacy more broadly. Those interested in the sociology of education, as well as diversity and religion in America, will also benefit from this volume.
